GESMATIK KIOX
Order Terminal

FUNCTIONS

KIOX order terminal or Kiosk brings GESMATIK functionalities wherever they are needed, being a Good complement to industrial vending machines and intelligent lockers.

KIOX kiosk is configured according to the needs of each company:

- User registration.
- Profile definition (restrictions, product limitations).
- Definition of products (description, references, prices, product technical sheet, instruction manual, images …)
- Others (…).

GESMATIK KIOX controls each delivery of work materials such as: Personal Protective Equipment (PPE), tools, office supplies…

The module is connected via SIM card to the internet for complete control - on site or through any pc or smartphone- of the activity of the terminal.

BENEFITS FOR ALL DEPARTMENTS OF YOUR COMPANY

Workers/Users
Orders to the warehouse from where they are needed
1. The user identifies himself in the control module with his card or access code, and selects the product he needs.
2. The machine displays the authorized items to the user.
3. The customer confirms the order and collects their ticket.

Management, Purchasing, OHS, Quality
Efficiency, savings, traceability, compliance with the Occupational Risk Prevention Act.
The GESMATIK software integrated in the KIOX kiosk makes it possible to know when, by whom and what product the worker requested, guaranteeing full traceability of products and processes. Advanced SIGNED function: which allows the digitized signature and document management of PPE delivery receipts.

Software Administrator
Modification of parameters , Statistics and Reports from any computer. Can be integrated into the company ERP.
GESMATIK software administrator can modify the product authorizations to its users, restricting or limiting the units to be delivered of each article or groups of articles, can register, deregister and modify users.

Warehouse /
Industrial Supply Manager
Organisation of deliveries
In the case of in-company orders, the company warehouse manager knows which items to deliver.
If it is the supplier who opens this new sales channel, they receive the order directly, and save the customer the ordering process time and costs.
